Reading

Exercise 3: Read the dialogue. What happened to Emily and what is she looking for?

Emily: Excuse me, do you know where the lost and found is?

Mark: Yes, it's just down that corridor on your left.

Emily: Thanks. I lost my phone somewhere around here.

Mark: That's too bad. Did you call it?

Emily: Yeah, but it's turned off. Maybe someone found it and took it to the lost and found.

Mark: Let's hope so. Hey, did you go to a security checkpoint?

Emily: Not yet. I am actually looking for the restrooms. Do you know where they are?

Mark: Sure, they're right next to the currency exchange office, that way.

Emily: Oh, great. And what about the boarding gates? Where can I find mine?

Mark: It depends on your airline. Check the screens over there. They have all the departure information including boarding times and gate numbers.

Emily: Thanks for your help. Do you know what time boarding starts for flights to London?

Mark: According to the schedule, your flight should start boarding in about an hour at gate C5.

Emily: Great! Is 15A a window seat?

Mark: I think so...

Emily: Perfect! Thank you very much!

Mark: Sure. Good luck!
